

Using Dating Apps for Health Outreach

Today's Session

- Overview of dating apps
- Types of outreach strategies
- Outreach measurement

Objectives

- At the end of today's session, organizations will:
 - Identify the most popular dating apps used in 2020
 - Describe effective strategies (paid and organic) for reaching community members through dating apps
 - Develop a plan for creating content, posting content, managing responses, and evaluating outreach on dating apps

Project Background

The Technical Assistance for Service Integration (TA4SI) project, funded by the Bureau of Infectious Disease and Laboratory Sciences (BIDLS) and implemented by JSI Research & Training Institute, Inc., provides technical assistance to BIDLS-funded agencies with a focus on service integration both across infectious disease areas (HIV, hepatitis, STIs, and latent TB) and into primary care.

Project Topics:

- Social Media
- PrEP
- Latent TB infection
- Data Basics
- Indicators and EHRs

What are dating apps?

- Dating apps are online dating services that are presented through a mobile phone application.
- These apps typically use GPS locators for locating others near you.
- Dating apps also give easy access to photo and video galleries for sharing purposes.

How are they used?

- Communication and connection
- Finding social networks
- Dating
- Hookups
- Advertising

Outreach on Dating Apps

Types of Outreach: Individual Profile

- Direct interaction with other users
- Ability to choose a profile picture
- Consistent promotion of services/activities
- Valuable to increase social media followers

Outreach on Individual Dating App Profiles

Do's	Don'ts
Check your messages frequently	Use aggressive tactics when messaging users
Maintain a clear SOP	Provide personal details
Interact with users in a professional manner despite their response	Overshare
Be consistent	Project yourself as needy
Prioritize your networks	Be spam
Be visually appealing	Share negative news
Use language relative to your audience	Excessively use "slang"

What interests me

Networking. Outreach. Community Engagement. Promoting FREE mobile, HIV Shuttle testing. Allow us to pull up on you.

Types of Outreach: Advertising

Without maintaining an individual profile, organizations have the ability to create ads that will be shown to users based on selected criteria.

Do's	Don'ts
Understand your needs before advertising	Use scare tactics
Maintain a clear SOP	Use poor grammar & spelling
Use plain language	Share multiple points of contact
Be visually appealing	Promote without understanding guidelines with funders and/or leadership

Writing for Dating Apps

Voice

- Your voice should be clear and conversational
- Interact with your audience, don't talk at them, rather speak with them
- Share information in a simple and clear form
- Use inclusive language
- Avoid intimidating and divisive language

Tone

Do

- Be warm and authentic – you want the audience to feel like they're interacting with a real person
- Be knowledgeable – content should always be fact-filled and share education
- Be respectful – respect someone's boundaries when talking about health

Tone

Don't

- Be generic – your tone should always be expressive
- Preach a sermon – be educational without condemning
- Be expected – show that you are always staying up-to-date

Calls to Action

- Invite users to where you're offering services
 - "We're testing at [address]!"
 - "Visit us at [address]"
- Call your audience to engage with you
 - "Send us a message to find out more about [topic]"
 - "We'd love to hear from you"
- Drive users to your website
 - "Visit us at [website]"
 - "Register for our [event] here: [short link]"

Creating Images

- Use images relevant to your audience
- If using ads, create a graphic that is visually appealing
- Be creative with images like using emojis
- Stock images are fine, but ensure you have the correct permissions to use the images
- Images from your events are great if you have individual's permission, like a signed waiver

TAKE CARE DURING SEX TO AVOID SPREADING COVID-19

- Kissing can easily pass COVID-19. Avoid kissing anyone who is not part of your small circle of close contacts.
- Rimming (mouth on anus) might spread COVID-19. Virus in feces may enter your mouth.
- Condoms and dental dams can reduce contact with saliva or feces, especially during oral or anal sex.
- Washing up before and after sex is more important than ever, including washing your hands, sex toys and any keyboards or touch screens that you share with others.

Best Practices for Managing Dating App Profiles

Posting Content

Most dating apps do not allow posting content as you would on a traditional social media platform such as Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram.

- Use your bio effectively
- Create short links
- Develop a cleared bank of responses

Cleared Bank of Responses

A cleared bank of responses will allow staff to respond to questions and comments without requesting supervisor approval every time.

Steps to developing a response bank:

1. Audit commonly received questions/comments
2. Staff write draft responses to common questions/comments
3. Supervisors approve responses
4. Approved responses are moved to the response bank for use by staff

Cleared Bank of Responses

Examples:

- “Thank you for your message! We’re offering testing at [time, date, location]”
- “Have you heard of [agency]? Well we’re offering [services, time location] today!”
- “Check out our [topic] resources - visit [website, webpage, social media profile]”
- “Thank you for your question. Check out/Visit [webpage, social media post, video] for more information.”
- “We are not able to provide advice on specific situations or give medical advice.”

Tracking Responses

Outreach staff should closely monitor messages on dating profiles daily and should respond as quickly as the interaction requires. Responses should not be deleted. There may be responses that require approval outside of the cleared bank of responses.

Supervisors should monitor dating app profiles with their staff for responses. Our recommendation is to use time during staff one-on-ones to go over the responses from the community as well as the staff. The frequency of one-on-ones depend on the agency/funder protocols.

Measuring Return on Investment

Tracking Organic Metrics

Unfortunately dating apps don't have an in-depth analysis of organic/unpaid metrics.

Metrics to consider:

- Number of messages sent
- Number of messages received
- Conversion of users to come in for services

Tracking Paid Metrics

By using ads, you will have access to the most metrics available during and after your ad run.

Metrics available:

- Impressions
- Clicks
- Click through rate
- Cost per thousand impressions
